We acknowledge that our students may have competing demands in their lives. Our friendly, supportive staff will work with you individually to find a study mode that best meets your situation, and will support you all the way through your studies.

02 High quality teaching and facilities
At AIAS, our lecturers are industry experts who will motivate you to achieve life-changing career outcomes. Our modern campuses provide state-of-the-art equipment and premium quality products for you to use, and our real salons and clinics will enhance your practical skills.

We work hard to build and maintain our industry relationships, and employers recognise our high standards. Employers are well aware of our high quality graduates.

04 Our experience
Through our various companies, we have been offering training in the science of health and wellbeing since 1974, so it’s no wonder we’re one of Australia’s best recognised providers of courses in these areas. Our long-standing experience means that you’ll benefit from our wealth of accumulated knowledge.

05 Career-oriented learning
The ultimate end goal is your new career, which is why all of our programs are designed with career outcomes in mind. We’ll make sure that you are job ready at graduation.

06 Hands-on learning
We know that most of our students learn by doing, by taking theoretical learning and putting it into practice. As an AIAS student, you’ll gain real world experience working in the clinic environments which are open to the public. You’ll demonstrate your competence within this environment through holistic assessment.

07 Flexible study options
We understand that studies must be balanced with other commitments, which is why we offer flexible learning options. Delivery modes include on-campus and online learning, as well as blended learning - a blend of the two.

08 Flexible payment plans
Eligible students can apply to access VET FEE-HELP deferred payment options for our Diploma and Advanced Diploma courses. Study now, pay later - what could be greater? The government loan scheme allows you to borrow funds to cover your tuition fees while you’re learning, and defer the payments until you’re earning. For courses that don’t qualify for VET FEE-HELP, we offer a number of flexible payment plans. We want to make sure that financial stress doesn’t get in the way of you achieving your goals.

AIAS is also an approved institution for financial assistance via Austudy, Abstudy, and Youth Allowance.

STUDY
AT HOME

Online learning
Study your AIAS course anywhere you can connect to the internet, at a time convenient to you. Online learning at AIAS is a flexible learning option to accommodate students whose busy schedule may not allow for on-campus study.

Online learning is unique because it incorporates electronically supported learning and teaching methods. You’ll be guided through your studies with an interactive and web-based educational experience.

Online courses are covered by the same support services as classroom study. You’ll get the same high level of support as an on-campus student, maximising your chances of success.

Online students should note that there are subjects, such as Clinic, that must be undertaken on campus for graduates to be eligible for membership of certain industry groups; for example, Australian Natural Therapists Association.

If you are the type of person who doesn’t need a structured classroom setting to feel motivated, then online learning is an ideal way to pursue a qualification without committing to campus attendance.

All subject assessment tasks are submitted online. If you have access to a computer and an internet connection - you’re good to go!

VET FEE-HELP does not cover accommodation and general living expenses.

VET FEE-HELP repayment
VET FEE-HELP debts become part of a student’s accumulated Higher Education Loan Program (HELP) debt. The debt is paid through the tax system once the student reaches the minimum income threshold level for repayment. The threshold for the 2015/16 income year is $54,126.
